

Green Garden As Airport Big "Conversation Piece"

Location of a site for an international airport in the southwest area is just conversation to date--but there is a lot of it.

Everyone is talking about it and quite a number of persons are trying to do something about it--one way or the other.

Chambers of Commerce are lining up their forces; cities and villages are showing interest, and the man on the street and the people next door are joining in the discussion.

The Frankfort Chamber of Commerce is studying the situation. The New Lenox Association of Commerce is to have W.E. Downs, commissioner of the Chicago Airport Authority, speak at a luncheon March 12. The Frankfort Village Board is waiting for further study of the matter before taking a stand.

The Kankakee Chamber of Commerce is out hook, line and sinker to locate the proposed new airport in Green Garden Township. The Joliet Chamber of Commerce, whose first love was the proposed airport site in Homer Township, has swung now to the Green Garden plan.

Albert H. Krusemark, attorney and resident of Frankfort, told the Frankfort Village Board Monday night according to information he has been able to obtain, there are several site locations under consideration. The Lake Michigan site, for instance, is still on the list; so is the proposed site in Homer. Krusemark said he was also informed that another proposed site was east of U.S. 45 between U.S. 30 and I-80, and that another would have its beginning just east of Frankfort, south of U.S. 30, and extending east to Matteson.

Krusemark pointed out that the site in Green Garden was maybe four to six miles south of Frankfort and as far as the community was concerned would be less annoying than an airport north of Frankfort, between U.S. 30 and I-80, or one to the east.

Everyone appears agreed that while an airport is a necessary structure in today's economy, everyone wants it next door to the other fellow.

Mayor Glenn Warning and Kuesemark also agreed that wherever the Chicago Airport Authority, or City Hall, wants the site located, that is where it will likely be. Attorney Krusemark said he had hope that help would be forthcoming in blocking the site directly east of Frankfort thru the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern Railway and Commonwealth Edison. The E.J. & E. reportedly has been asked to give the Airport Authority an estimate of the cost for relocating its tracks and it was believed the railroad is content to let its rails remain where they are. Commonwealth Edison has a large investment in the area too and is believed it would oppose any move to engulf the territory east to Matteson. The Illinois Central

FFA Chooses Sec. 8 Speech Contestant

A Prepared Public Speaking contest was the highlight of the monthly meeting of the Lincoln - Way Future Farmers of America Chapter Jan. 29, at the high school.

Each of the contestants had a prepared speech which ran from six to 10 minutes in length.

Marilyn Hicks was the winner; John Haley was second, and Jack Chestnut was third. The winner will compete in the Section 8 contest in March.

Plans were made for the state farmer interviews, for which the Lincoln - Way Chapter will be host. There also was some discussion of the displays to be built for National FFA Week and the Farm Bureau meeting this month, and the state FFA convention in June.

course, is planning for the Green Garden site or any other its trains can serve.

The Frankfort Chamber of Commerce wants to have more information before it finally reaches a conclusion on the Green Garden site. Backers of that proposal point out that Green Garden has several natural advantages--it is out of the fog and snow belt--some people in this area favor putting the airport in the Gary-Hammond area but it is said the Airport Authority is against that because of the bad weather conditions because of Lake Michigan--the terrain is flat, and there are no railroads or industries in the townships and since the population is around 700 there would be a minimum of people displacement.

Krusemark said that the engineers hired by the Kankakee C. of C. told him that the north boundary of the proposed airport would be Steger Rd., which is along the Frankfort-Green Garden line. He added that he plans to get in touch with some people who have been making a study of airports as a noise source and hoped to have additional information to report to the board at its meeting Feb. 19.

Recommendations, for or against, any of these sites should be in the hands of the Airport Authority at Chicago by March 1, Krusemark told the board.

Krusemark also was appointed chairman of a committee to represent the Chamber of Commerce in making an inquiry into the facts concerning the location of an airport in the area, and the feelings Frankfort residents have on such a proposal. Named as committee members by Ralph Show, Chamber president, are Burton Breidert, John Arnold, Paul Lambrecht, Jim Kelly, Mayor Warning, and Show himself.

A show of hands at the recent meeting of the Chamber was reportedly in favor of placing an airport in Green Garden.

Orland Youth Killed In Viet Nam Fighting

An 18-year-old Orland Park boy was fatally wounded last week in Viet Nam.

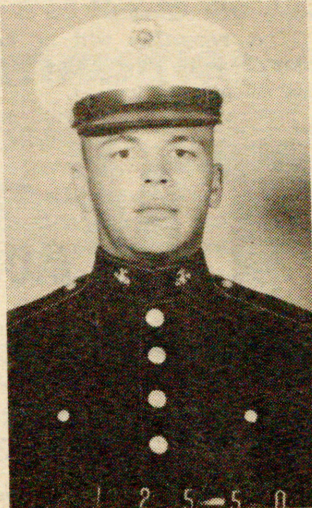

George Dennis Stiehler, United States Marines, is the latest war casualty in the area.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Stiehler, reside at 14922 Hale Drive. Mr. Stiehler is a house painter.

They received a telegram last Friday, Feb. 2, that Denny, as their Marine son was best known, had been killed Jan. 30 in the fighting at Quang Tri. He was caught under mortar fire.

The message came just a year to the day from the time Denny entered the service. He was sworn in into the Marine Corps Feb. 2, 1967. He arrived in Viet Nam about Aug. 1.

Born in Huntington Park, Calif., Denny came to Orland Park 10 years ago with his parents. He was graduated from the Orland Park grade school and then entered Carl Sandburg High School. He left there in January, 1967, to enter the service. He would have graduated this June.

A brother, Michael J., was to have been inducted in the army Feb. 17 but because of the death of Denny, that has been postponed, Mr. Stiehler said.

Denny's funeral is to be held at Orland Park but the date is not known. The body will be brought to the Schmaedeke Funeral home at Orland, possibly within a week, according to available information.

Also surviving besides the parents and the brother Michael, is another brother, Robert O., 4 years old; his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Dolly Roberts, of Los Angeles, and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Edna Stiehler, of Dalton, Ill.

NO SNOW was in the offing last Friday, according to forecasts Thursday night. A little rain maybe, but no snow. It was a good thing that was the forecast, otherwise more might have fallen. As it was it looked like the beginning of a blizzard early Friday morning but the fall ceased by noon. There was rain with the snow at the start and the combination coated streets and highways with ice, making driving hazardous and causing quite a number of traffic accidents.

Restore Property To Tax Rolls Thru Sales

The tax sale on Jan. 31 at Frankfort and New Lenox, conducted under the Scavenger Act, attracted quite a horde of prospective buyers.

Four out of nine pieces listed were sold in Frankfort Township and three out of nine in New Lenox Township. Several pieces were redeemed in both townships.

The property involved has been on the delinquent tax list for 10 years or more. Buyers can get a tax deed to the property in two years, unless the owners of record redeem it in that period, by paying up the amount put up by the buyer, plus interest.

Clarence Lipman, Will county treasurer, who directed the sale, was pleased with the attention it is receiving and the bids that were made in Frankfort and New Lenox townships. State's Attorney George E. Sangmesiter was the auctioneer. The Frankfort Township sale was conducted at the Frankfort village hall.

The largest sum paid was $4,000, on a parcel of real estate at Mokena on which $9,460.28 was the accrued taxes that were delinquent. A parcel on which $1,877.72 was due in taxes brought $1,900. Another parcel on which the taxes amounted to $201.57, brought $450. The fourth piece sold had $849.15 due in taxes and it sold for $550.

At New Lenox a parcel on which the tax bill was $150.04 was sold for $350 at the auction. A parcel there on which the taxes amounted to $183.41 brought $260, and another parcel brought $400, on which $549.71 was due in taxes. Buyers also paid a $3 fee to the county clerk's office on each parcel, in addition to the figures quoted above.

The Frankfort sale took place in the morning and the one at New Lenox was in the afternoon. Some 60 persons attended each. At Frankfort the sales totaled $6912; at New Lenox the total amount paid in on three sales was $1,019.

These sales will continue on Wednesdays for several weeks, it was said, before all the townships in the county are covered.

The important thing about such sales, Lipman pointed out, is that properties that have not been bringing in anything for years are now back on the tax rolls.

Invite Public To I-80 Dinner Sunday

The Tinley Park Jaycees and the Village of Tinley Park will have their own celebration of the opening of I-80, in the form of a dinner this Sunday night (Feb. 11) at Silver Lake Country Club, Orland Park.

The affair is open to the public and letters announcing the dinner have been sent to all neighboring communities.

Village officials and various organizations interested in the growth and development of the southwest suburban area worked for years to get action on completion of a 29-mile link of I-80, between Hazel Crest and the eastern edge of Joliet. The Tinley Park Jaycees were among these organizations.

At the dinner Sunday night a number of public figures are scheduled to appear. Principal speaker will be Richard Ogilvie, chairman of the Cook County Board and Michael J. Howlett, state auditor. Ogilvie is to speak on the future of the South Cook County communities.

Conservation Farming Pays High Dividends

American consumers and farmers share the benefits of conservation farming - continuous agricultural production from fertile soils, high quality food, abundant wildlife, silt-free lakes and streams and a more scenic countryside. They also share the task of conserving and developing our soil and water resources.

"This task gets bigger each year, as an increasing population needs food, clothing, recreation and other materials produced from these two basic resources", says Hillard Morris, Morris is President of the Association of Illinois Soil and Water Conservation Districts.

1967 was a good year for soil and water conservation in Illinois. The 98 soil and water conservation districts with assistance from the U.S. Soil Conservation Service helped more than 40,000 landowners and operators plan and apply conservation practices last year.

Activities and accomplishments of the local Will-South Cook District for 1967 will be reported at its annual meeting, February 7 at 6:30 p.m. at the Plainfield High School. This District is highly urbanized, therefore, it is called on for assistance by many non-farm users of land and water. Assistance was given on erosion control, siltation, pond building and management, wildlife problems, water management, tree planting, seedlings and land use problems.

Other significant conservation projects were completed in Illinois last year. A few are mentioned below.

McHenry County, northwest of Chicago, is using a survey of all the county's soils to help guide land use changes and planning. As land goes from agriculture to urban and other uses, many problems such as building on flood plains or unstable soils can be avoided with the proper information and planning. The McHenry County Soil and Water Conservation District will soon provide a series of color maps which indicate the degree of limitation (slight, moderate, or severe) for various uses on each soil. The district is preparing four interpretative maps which show degrees of limitation for urban build-up, septic filter fields, soil wetness hazards, and conservation and productivity (agricultural). We believe this information will help residents of McHenry County to plan its growth in an orderly fashion and to obtain the most efficient use of their lands. Maps with this information is available for Will County and parts of South Cook County.

The Shoal Creek Watershed Project in Montgomery County is another outstanding conservation accomplishment. This project, constructed under the Small Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention Act (Public Law 566), is 60 percent complete. A 1,412-acre lake for flood prevention, municipal water and recreation serves the City of Litchfield, Illinois. It is estimated that recreation benefits from this lake will total 125,000 visitor days annually. SCS engineers estimate that flood damages will be reduced by 80 percent for a savings of $560,000 annually along Shoal Creek when this project is finished.

Another milestone was the launching of the Shawnee Resource Conservation and Development Project in southern Illinois. This project was conceived by local people to conserve, develop and utilize their natural resources for the economic betterment of this 14-county area. This project and similar ones across the country were made possible through the Food and Agriculture Act of 1962. The Soil Conservation Service is responsible for coordinating the assistance of all agencies of the U.S. Department of Agriculture in these RC&D projects. The Shawnee RC&D executive committee, comprised of community leaders within the 14-county area, has received over 500 proposals from local citizens. These proposals suggest development of rural water systems, new recreation facilities, accelerated technical services for land use planning, development of industrial parks, and many other resource projects.

Other features included the "special projects" undertaken in 16 Illinois counties last year. These involved accelerated SCS technical assistance for planning and increased cost-sharing from the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service to aid application of conservation practices. Terracing, grass waterways, pasture and woodland improvement practices were accelerated through these projects. Continuing efforts like these will maintain a productive agriculture and an attractive community by preventing soil erosion and sedimentation.

A fifth major accomplishment of statewide significance was the promotion of a new system of tillage to reduce soil erosion from wind and water. Called "conservation tillage", this system is an adaptation of several minimum tillage practices. The main ideas behind conservation tillage are (1) to leave some blanket of cover on the soil during the winter months to reduce wind and water erosion, and

(2) to reduce the trips over the field to reduce soil compaction and allow adequate water infiltration. Spring plowing with reduced tillage is one acceptable method of conservation tillage. If fall plowing is necessary, the use of a chisel plow instead of the regular mold-board plow will leave more residue on the surface. Some farmers have used a mold-board plow in the fall and then seeded oats or field brome cover crops. These methods combined with minimum tillage practices such as plow-planting in the spring all help to reduce soil loss by wind and water. This new practice is being offered in the Will-South Cook District this year.

"Soil is a valuable resource," a spokesman concluded. It helped produce a two billion dollar corn and soybean crop in Illinois last year. However, it is a costly nuisance when it erodes into our lakes and reservoirs or blows into road ditches and houses. The soil and water conservation districts of Illinois with assistance from the Soil Conservation Service and other agencies are working to keep soil where it is useful."

EDITORIAL

NOTE: The editors of the Industrial News Review believe the following remarks -- taken from an Address by Dr. Milford O. Rouse, president of the American Medical Association--are of transcendent importance.

A Citizen Speaks Out

To a society as large and diverse as this one, large government is a necessity. To a nation as strong as this one, strong government is indispensable. There are many things that can be done only by government and best by government.

There are other things, however, that can be done only by the private organizations and individual citizens working together and best by them.

There is a feature in the nature of government that keeps it from accomplishing many things that need to be done. An understanding of that factor both inside and outside of government would do much to explain the frequent frustration caused when well-intentioned programs do not live up to expectations.

The feature is that no matter how positive a government wants to be and no matter how positive the statements of its officials are, its efforts are often negative in execution.

Government can pass laws against theft, but no law can make a people want to be honest. Government can pass laws forbidding the abridgment of freedom of religion, but no law can make a people want to worship God. Government can pass laws against drunkenness, but no law can make a people want sobriety.

Even in its attempt to assure basic civil rights to all citizens, which appears positive, government can only pass laws against denying a member of any race the right to live wherever he wants and to work wherever he qualifies. No law can make families, neighborhoods, employers or workers want to share what they have with members of another race.

Government can and does try to stop people from doing undesirable things, but it cannot make them want to do desirable things.

The real danger to freedom today, as well as the cause of much frustration, anger and bewilderment, is that too many people are looking to the government to grant freedom, assure rights, build prosperity and create brotherhood -- things no government in history has ever been equipped to do alone. Many people expect the government to do what only they can do for themselves.

Our nation faces an apparent widespread deterioration in personal integrity, seen in practically every segment and level of society, from the repairman who does shoddy work--to the factory worker who gives no thought to the quality of the product he is making...the clerk who takes office stamps...the salesman who pads his expense account...the manager who cheats on his taxes...the attorney who recommends an unjustified lawsuit...to the physician who might expand a medical report to inflate the insurance payment to himself and his patient. It also is seen at every level of government, from censure proceedings in our highest legislative bodies to a city where national guard troops are mustered to prevent election abuses.

Government alone cannot solve this problem. There already are laws against all of these things. The solution can come only from a heightened desire by all people to be honest themselves and a willingness to insist on integrity in their neighbors, associates and elected officials.

Leaders in government understandably see it as their duty to do for the people of this country whatever they believe, or whatever they are told by citizen groups, is not already being done equitably, effectively and efficiently by the private sectors of society.

When private citizens abdicate their responsibilities and ask the government to do a job, government responds in the only way it can: it passes more laws and usually appropriates more money. And every time another law is passed, it means another small or large restriction on somebody's freedom.

As citizens, in other words, we have this choice when facing a situation that needs correcting. We can do it ourselves; or we can ask the government to pass a law that says we must not fail to do it -- and that sets up an administrative mechanism to enforce the prohibition. The former choice is by far the best way to meet a situation, at least from the standpoint of economy and independence; and often from the standpoint of speed efficiency and effectiveness, depending on the nature of the problem.

The government will be called on to help. Its resources and responsibilities certainly cannot and should not be overlooked. But the initiative, leadership and work should remain in the hands of the citizens.

Edison Shows Film On Dollar Crisis

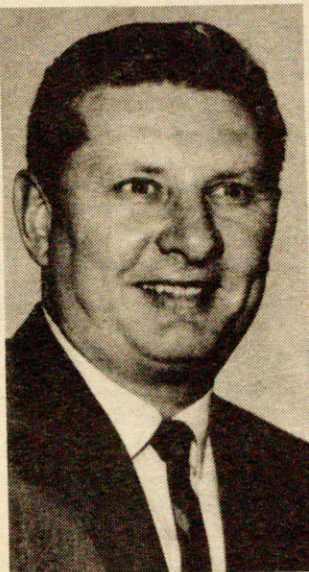

A specially produced film titled to examine the nation's current preoccupation with the balance-of-payments deficit will be presented in 500 public and parochial schools in February by Commonwealth Edison Company.

"Crisis In Gold" depicts the issues and problems behind the dollar drain that are pressing the government to re-evaluate many of the nation's traditional monetary policies in an effort to halt the flow of gold overseas. The documentary is the sixth in a series of ten Screen News Digest films being sponsored by Edison this year as a public service.

"Nearly 200,000 students in Chicago and northern Illinois view the documentaries each month," Edward Menke, Edison director of public relations, said. "We feel that the presentation of this film is in keeping with the philosophy of Screen News Digest to analyze the 'now news.' Films such as these bring into focus contemporary events that have meaning for citizens on every age and educational level," he said.

Since 1965 when Edison began sponsoring Screen News Digest, a half-million elementary and high school youngsters have seen the films. About 100 schools in Edison's southern division, which extends south and west from Chicago and the Indiana State line to Pontiac, including the area beyond Kankakee and Streator, will receive Screen News Digest.

Revenuers Says Yes And No To Taxes On Pensions, Annuities

Chicago, Illinois -- Do you get a pension or an annuity? Pension and annuity payments received by taxpayers during 1967 fall into one of these three classes for Federal income tax purposes: non-taxable, fully taxable, or partly taxable. E. C. Coyle, District Director of the Internal Revenue Service for Northern, Illinois stated today.

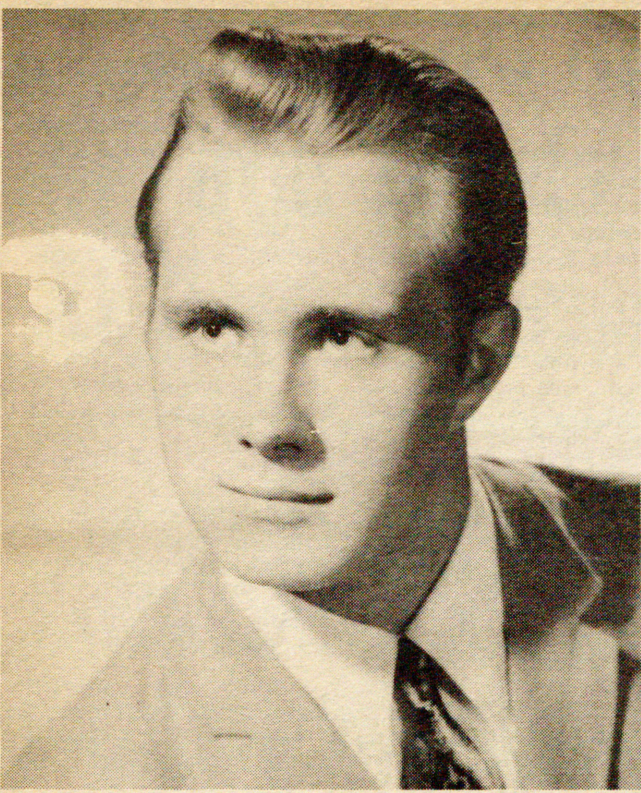

Pensions that are TAX-FREE and need not be reported on Federal returns, include Social Security payment, Railroad Retirement Act pensions, Veterans Administration pensions to veterans and their families and disability retirement pay of military personnel retired on disability resulting from active service.

Payments received by a retired employee from a pension plan provided by his employer, without cost to the employee, are fully taxable.

If you purchased an annuity, or if you retired under a plan financed jointly by you and your employer, part of the payments received by you will be taxed. The computation of the taxable portion is based on a formula which permits the recovery of your cost tax-free.

If you contributed a part of the cost of your pension or annuity, and will recover YOUR entire cost within THREE years after retirement, you report nothing as

MIKE DERRIG

Local Boy Claimed By Mets Baseball Draft

Mike Derrig, 18, of Mokena was claimed last week by the New York Mets in the special phase of the annual winter baseball draft held in New York City.

The special phase covers players who were previously drafted but did not sign.

Derrig, a left handed, pitcher, was picked by the Mets in the Triple A round for their Jacksonville team. This makes him their number two choice in the draft.

Derrig, a student at Joliet Junior College, was drafted by the Pittsburgh Pirates last June when he graduated from Lincoln-Way High School. At that time he failed to sign a contract because he did not agree to terms.

Last season Mike played baseball with Neilson's Standard of Joliet in the Northern Illinois Baseball League and the Central States League.

Mike is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Derrig, 10823 Third St., Mokena.

Connecticut Hills Gets More Lights

The Village of Frankfort has ordered 12 more street lights for Connecticut Hills. Mayor Glenn Warning this week signed the agreement for installation by Commonwealth Edison.

The lights are to be located at Hackberry and Cedar Rds; on Hackberry; Indiana Ct. and Cedar; Indiana Ct. and Cottonwood; Hawthorne and Indiana; the 500 block on Cottonwood; Cottonwood and Meadow; Cottonwood and Lincoln Lane; Hackberry and Lincoln Lane; Linden Ct. and Linden Rd.; Hobby and Michigan and Ohio and Locust.

More Auto Stickers Sold At Frankfort

More Frankfort automobile owners have purchased village licenses this year than last. Village Clerk Walter Pfaff reported to the board at the regular meeting Monday night, but added that there are still quite a number who have yet to purchase stickers.

Incidentally the license fee doubled as of Feb. 1, according to ordinance, so the passenger car owner will now pay $10 for a village sticker; more, of course, on trucks.

The number of stickers sold as of Monday was 732, Pfaff said, which is 70 more than were sold up to that time a year ago.

Orland Gets Grant To Aid In Planning

The federal agency, Housing and Urban Development, has allocated a grant of $11,100 to Orland Park to aid its planning project.

Orland Park has hired a professional planner to help it cope with present and future demands and has already received a government grant. The one received last week end is specifically for use to bring maps up to date, land use analysis, and a study of population and economic conditions leading to preparation of a comprehensive development plan.

The Village of Orland Park is now taking a long range look and well as one at the present and is planning major extensions of its sewer and water facilities to serve a large and expanding territory.

Numerous annexations are contemplated and at a special meeting of the village council last Monday night the trustees were in agreement on taking in the property of George Paetow in the vicinity of 135th St. and Southwest Highway. Paetow is planning to build a nursing home there but wants it to be in the village.

An agreement was made with Pure Oil relative to extension and sewer lines along the 143d St. side of its property at U.S. 45.

There were some other topics listed for consideration but were not taken up, including an ordinance on lot sizes, a new building code and a planned unit development unit slated for the vicinity of 151st and West Av.

Mr. Duncan, a native of Glasgow, Scotland, where he was born Jan. 1, 1905, was at one time a resident of Oak Lawn. Since 1954 he has spent his winters at Englewood, Fla. and for many years has come to Mokena to spend the summers and early fall.

He was a member of the Elks Lodge of Englewood, Fla. and of the Masonic Lodge there. He also belonged to the Shrine at Medina Temple, Chicago.

grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

She is survived by one son Paul of Lincoln Estates. She was preceded in death by her husband, Guy, in 1965.

May File Frankfort Park Dist. Petitions In Court This Week

Petitions for a referendum on a proposed Park District for Frankfort found plenty of signers last week end. Trustee Jerry Francis told fellow members of the Village board at its meeting Monday night.

It was believed that the petitions would be filed this week in the Will County Circuit Court. If found sufficient the next move would be for a judge to set a date for the referendum and the election of park commissioners.

Trustee Francis has been in close touch with this project which may result in formation of a park district because he is chairman of the village board committee which deals with Frankfort Community Park.

Also closely identified with development and improvement of the park is the SPC, which was organized and headed for years by Mrs. Irving Rudman.

Francis reported that the last Sunday in April is to be a "work-day" at the park, a day on which volunteers will turn their hands to the multitude of tasks that must be done before the summer season begins. The Road Runners, a Lincoln Estates softball team, is to erect a flagpole at the ball diamond and arrangements are being made to illuminate it at night, as is the flag flown over the Frankfort Village Hall.

Two more lights are to be added to the baseball field this summer. Francis said the lights purchased by the village board for the ball diamond last year have more than paid for themselves. Money from the concessions is ploughed back into boys baseball, recreation and park improvements.

Finding funds with which to keep the park up and add to the improvements there each year is becoming increasingly difficult for both the village and the SPC and both are in favor of establishment of a park district.

Attorneys August Santoro and A.H. Krusemark Jr. are taking care of the legal details connected with the formation of a park district.

Mrs. Jeffery, a resident of Chickasaw Hills, will give a 10 minute introduction to the film "Why Billy Couldn't Learn" which shows actual classroom demonstration. The film, obtained from the Chicago Association for Children with Learning Disability, will be shown by Mrs. J. Hullinger.

nois Teachers College. A native of South Dakota, she studied music at Dakota Wesleyan. She has directed grade and high school bands and worked with several church choirs. Her tremendous success with slow learners is apparent because she accepts them as they are and makes the learning process a happy and rewarding one. Children are taught to work with their hands in addition to learning as much practical knowledge as they can grasp. Many graduate to become capable of high school work, while others upon graduation receive further training in a skill which they can master and in which they can take pride.

Mrs. Jeffery, who lost her husband because of cancer last February, is the mother of three children. Karen, 21, is working for Fairview Hospital, Chicago; Geoffrey, 19, is a pre-med student at Pacific Lutheran University at Tacoma, Wash.; and Douglas, 16, is attending Lockport High School. That Rich East basketball team came to life last Friday at the expense of Lincoln-Way. The Knights would have preferred that the Rockets had turned tiger against some other club but one can't gauge those things.

In a previous meeting between the two clubs Lincoln-Way dusted off Rich East by 25 points. Practically everyone has been beating the Rockets this year and it was generally conceded that Lincoln-Way would take their hosts in last Friday's conference tilt.

But the final score was Rich East 86, and Lincoln-Way 84.

The Knights couldn't get untracked and at half time was losing 50 to 34 and kept right on to the end, altho they stayed even with the Rockets in the third frame when each club scored 24 points, and registered 26 points to the hosts 12 in the final quarter, but the pardon was too late in arriving. Pat Croker, of the Rich team, totaled 33 points and another of their players, Larry McCarren, tallied 24. Craig Otto, a junior, chalked up 21 points for the Knights, Pat McCabe, 18 and Keith Dilworth 14. Everybody else on the Lincoln-Way club got in the score book. Minger and Loucks each had 7 points; Webb, 6; Fredin and Martin, 4 each; Palka, 2, and Mike McCabe, 1.

The next evening (last Saturday) the Knights invade Blue Island to tangle with Eisenhower and the Ikes won 67-64. The Lincoln-Way club led 21-16 at the end of the first quarter and 33-31 at halftime. The third quarter was the decisive one. Eisenhower scored 20 points in that frame to Lincoln-Way's 10. In the final frame Lincoln-Way duplicated its first quarter count of 21 as did Blue Island its score of 16 which left the hosts with a three point margin for victory.

Fredin scored 22 points; P. McCabe, 13; Minger, 12; M. McCabe, 10 and Webb 7.

Things look bright for this year: electric heat rates went down again January 4th.

Nice sense of direction.

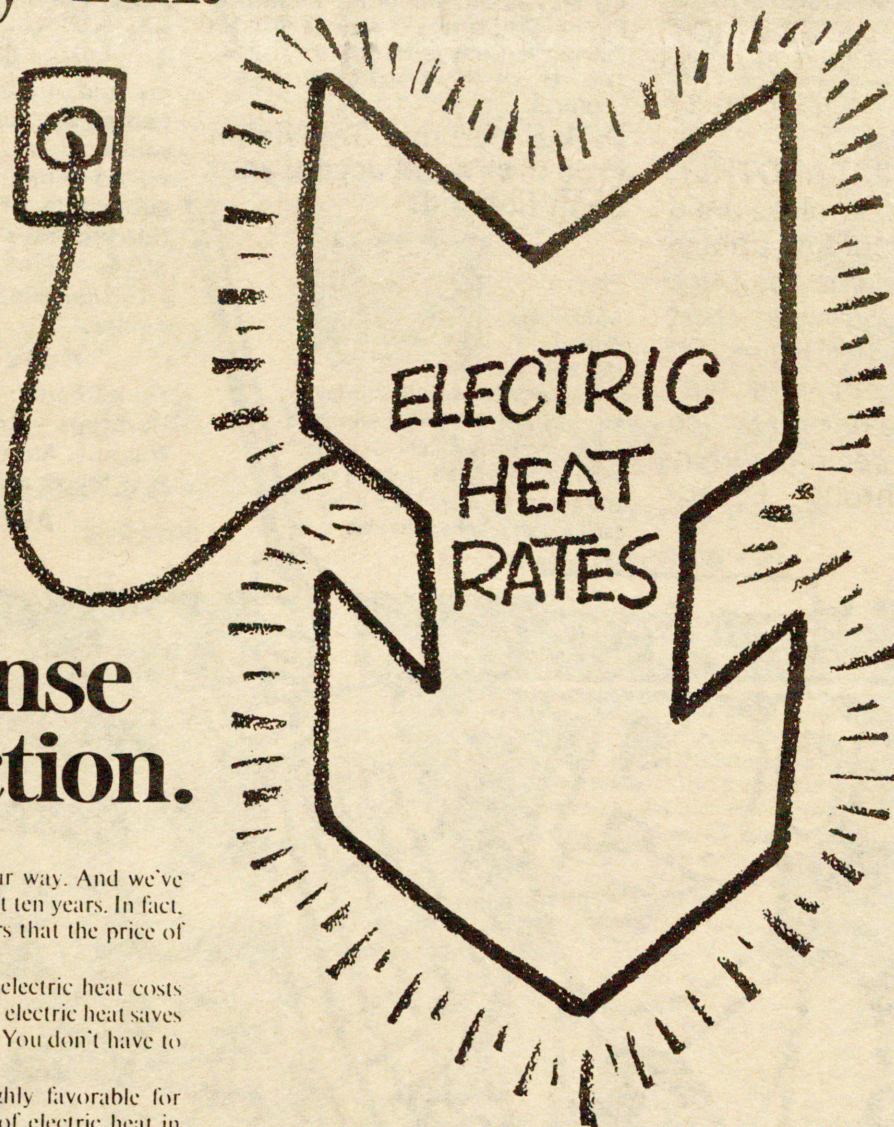

You might say we're going your way. And we've been going your way for the past ten years. In fact, this is the tenth time in ten years that the price of electric heat has been reduced.

What it means is that modern electric heat costs less than ever before. And clean electric heat saves you money in other ways, too. You don't have to clean or decorate as often.

All in all, conditions seem highly favorable for you to move in the direction of electric heat in the year ahead. Besides, that's the only way to go if you want a heating system that will still be modern 20 years from now.

Climaxing the night's event will be Father Imborski's address entitled, "Can Parents Be Trusted by Their Children?" He will discuss the interpersonal relationships which develop within the family insofar as they effect the values, directions, and guides for living.

Father Walter Imborski was ordained at St. Mary of the Lake Seminary, Mundelein, Ill. in 1951. He received an M.A. in history and the degree of licentiate in Sacred Theology.

Since Imborski has edited and published one book, several pamphlets, a number of articles, and has written a widely syndicated family life column. He has lectured extensively in the United States, South America, and the Far East on matters pertaining to marriage and the family, in education, the lay apostolate, and the Church.

Necessarily involved in family education groups, Father has served on the Advisory Board of the National Catholic Welfare Conference (an advisory group to United States Bishops and

FR. IMBIORSKI

the U.N.), on the White House Conference of Youth, and the Groves Conference. He has worked extensively in the organization of the Christian Family Movement in Chicago and around the world.

Since 1959, Father Imborski has served as Director of the Cana Conference of Chicago, the oldest, largest and most varied family life education program in the country.

Publicize Frankfort, Aim Of Chamber Group

Many organizations -- most of them in fact -- have a publicity committee whose duty, theoretically at least,
is to acquaint the public with the activities of their groups thru the new media available.

The Frankfort Chamber of Commerce is going that one better. It plans to hire someone to do the job. The minutes of the recent Chamber of Commerce meeting noted that the Frankfort Lions Club also appeared to be attracted to the idea and at the village board meeting Monday night some of the officials also appeared to be interested in the idea to promote the community thru publicity.

Sometime ago the Chamber decided that Frankfort should capitalize on its rural atmosphere and setting and thru plantings, architectural touches, and gaslights preserve the 1890 theme.

Bert Breidert, head of the planning commission, was appointed chairman of a committee to further this idea and he and his associates have done considerable work on this. The committee has been reactivated
but the Chamber indicated it would like to have the village board devote some time and money to the program. Village officials agree to give as much moral and financial aid as possible to further development of the 1890 theme. They pointed out that the village has contributed money and effort on the project but right now such things as water and

Eagle Quint Beats Oak Lawn, 49 To 43

All is well that ends well-- an old saw that carries a lot of truth, Carl Sandburg High School basketball fans will agree.

When halftime rolled round last Friday night it looked like it might be another of those nights for the Eagle quintet. The Eagles were playing Oak Lawn and the Oak Lawns were leading 20 to 12 when the two teams took their halftime break.

But the second half was a different story and the Sandburgs came on to win
49 to 43.

According to the totals
Sandburg made 20 baskets from the floor and nine points from the free throw line.
Oak Lawn had 32 points from field goals and 11 from charity tosses.

Taber was high scorer for Sandburg with 12 points, all from floor shots; Pnazeck made four baskets and two free throws; Jaeger hit for 9, four buckets and a free throw; Sloan had 8 points on four baskets; Richards had 6 points, one basket and four free throws. McBride had a basket and two free throws for 4 points.

High point man for the game was Oak Lawn's Matulis who hit for 15 points, five buckets and five free tosses.

Homewood - Flossmoor took care of its own knitting, edging Bremen 64 to 62. The Vikings have an unblemished record in the Southwest Suburban Conference while Bremen has now lost two games. The Braves can beat everyone else in the league but Homewood-Flossmoor. The Vikings take on Sandburg this week-end in basketball and swimming.

Reavis beat Evergreen Park last week, 58 to 52,
and Stagg, in another circuit, was massacred by Rich
Central, 117 to 50.

We want to help.

Part of our job is making sure that all our customers have full and unhindered use of their telephone. Sometimes we have to do something a little special to bring phone service in line with a person's restricted abilities.

For example, we've developed services to help people who are blind, hard-of-hearing, or have impaired vocal cords. And we've priced them with no intent to profit. Some regular services—such as Speakerphones or automatic dialers—may help people who are paralyzed or bedfast. In addition, we've designed special equipment for individual needs.

But there are a lot of problems we don't even know about. If you have any trouble using your phone, we'd like to hear from you. Or if you have a handicapped friend, who cannot contact us himself, we would appreciate it if you would call us for him.

Give us a call or drop us a line, and we'll be glad to come out and discuss your particular problem, and do our best to solve it for you. The solution may be right on the shelf in our warehouse. If not, we'll be glad to suggest an original combination of services.

There's no obligation, of course.

By sharing your particular problem with us, you'll also help all our other customers with a difficulty similar to yours.

Please feel free to discuss your phoning difficulties with our Personal Service Specialist. Call him collect at Area Code 312, 727-4421. Or write P. O. Box 5995, Chicago, Illinois 60606.

Barr Seeks 2d Term In Assembly

State Representative William G. "Bill" Barr (R-Joliet) announced today (Feb. 8) that he will seek reelection in the 41st District subject to endorsement by the Will County Republican Central Committee. Representative Barr was elected to his first term in 1966.

"The work of the Legislature has been a tremendous challenge and after one term I can better understand and interpret the massive problems that face the people of our State," Barr said. "Shaping solutions to these problems has offered me an opportunity to work with and share the concerns of our State with men and women representing all of Illinois."

"For example: education, including support for parochial schools; air and water pollution; taxes; local government problems; the Sanitary District sphere of function and jurisdiction; law enforcement; open occupancy, collective bargaining rights of public employees; public welfare programs; highways; etc. are among the numerous questions facing Illinois citizens."

"There are no easy or pat answers to these questions nor is there a magic formula which can be offered for their solution. In the course of the campaigns, I will spell out my position in detail on some of the major issues, and I will welcome reactions by the citizens. I intend to wage an intensive campaign thruout the entire 41st District, in course of which I will listen as well as talk."

"As a State Legislator, I can promise to work hard, to listen clearly and to try to do the right thing as best I can."

Representative Barr, a 48-year old builder and developer, resides in Joliet with his wife, Virginia. He is the son of the late Senator Richard Barr, who represented Will County for 48 years in the Illinois Legislature.

Barr received his education in the Joliet schools and at the Universities of Illinois and Wisconsin. He is a veteran of World War II.

In 1953, President Eisenhower appointed Barr as Director of Defense Rental Areas for the United States to terminate rental properties. He was Executive Director of the National Parking Association in Washington from 1953-1962. The U.S. Chamber of Commerce presented Barr an award for "Outstanding Service in Public Interest" for his contributions in this capacity. Barr is currently Executive Vice President of the National Parking Association and is recognized as an expert in urban problems.

In a poll, the readers of the nonpartisan newsletter, The Illinois Political Reporter, selected Barr as the "Best Freshman Representative for 1967". Another award came from the Illinois Association of County Superintendents of Schools commending "Representative William G. Barr for his efforts to improve schools and the office of County Superintendent of Schools in the State of Illinois."

WANT ADS

SHORT AND SWEET

Health authorities tell us that the muscles of the legs are the body's "second heart"; that all other things being equal, leg muscles which are well-developed from much walking are as indicative of a long life ahead as is a sound heart.

Walking comes as naturally to human beings as breathing, yet as an exercise for pleasure it has become so foreign to most of us that hardly anyone is likely to know such natural things about himself as how many miles an hour he can comfortably walk. But everyone knows how fast he normally drives a car!

CSHS Musicians Off On Western Concert Tour

Three railroad cars full of musicians from Carl Sandburg High School, will be heading for the Denver, Colo. area and a series of concerts before high school and hospital audiences, Feb. 11, 12, and 13.

The Chicago suburban school's band and choir, consisting of 146 students, and 19 adult chaperones will make the trip. It's the second journey to Denver for Sandburg music department chairman Milton Potter, who took 130 students on a similar trip in 1963.

The students, working with a music parents organization, earned the bulk of the funds necessary to finance the western excursion. Candy selling and organizing a public dance were two profit making activities for the students.

Sandburg musicians have taken other tours. In 1965, the band, orchestra, and choir took a Mississippi River tour, playing concerts in Navoo and Quincy, Ill., and Hannibal and St. Louis, Mo. Last spring, the band and choir performed in concert in northern Wisconsin.

Both the band and choir are frequent winners of Superior ratings in Illinois state high school music contests.

Sandburg's choir, directed by Wayne Doverspike, has appeared on television programs in Chicago twice this year. Half hour shows honoring the late poet Carl Sandburg featured music from the first high school to be named after him.

Sandburg orchestra director Robert Beland is the third music teacher in the party. Other chaperones include Dr. G.W. Davidson, Sandburg's principal; Mrs. Dorothy Sikula, school nurse; and parents of school musicians, including Mr. and Mrs. William Nebe, Palos Park, who are chairmen of this trip, as well as two earlier ones.

Inside the large band and choir are two special groups which will also perform in Denver. Potter directs the stage band, a select group of 19 musicians, who play dance music and have the "big band sound." Doverspike directs a select 18-voice Chorale group in specialty numbers.

After arrival on the "Denver Zephyr" in Denver's Union Terminal at 8:45 a.m. Sunday, Feb. 11, the Illinoisians will be off on a sightseeing tour. Six buses will take the group to see Red Rocks' Park, Lookout Mountain, the tomb of Buffalo Bill, and historic old Central City, where they'll eat lunch. Later, the group will check into the Denver Milton Hotel, where they'll occupy two floors.

A practice session at the hotel Sunday evening will prepare the musicians for their concerts. The reason for the rehearsal is that the change in altitude between Chicago and Denver will affect the playing and singing.

First concert will be at Mapleton High School, Feb. 12, in a Denver suburb. Two concerts at 9 and 10:30 a.m. are scheduled.

The band and choir split Monday afternoon, with the choir going to Fairview High School in Boulder for a 12:55 p.m. concert. The band will transfer to Westminster High School, Westminster, Colo., for a 1:00 p.m. concert. Monday night, after dinner in the Denver Hilton, the stage band and chorale groups will perform at Fort Logan Hospital, Ft. Logan, Colo.

Arvada West High School will be the site of a Tuesday morning concert. The Illinois students will lunch at the high school, return to the hotel, pack, and board the "Zephyr", departing from Denver at 4 p.m.

They'll eat breakfast on the train Wednesday morning, and will debark at LaGrange, about 10 miles north of Sandburg High. School buses will deliver the travelers to school for most of the Wednesday classes. With Lincoln's Birthday a school holiday in Illinois, Sandburg students will only miss one full day of school and will gain much knowledge about Colorado and its friendly people.
